CSST Safety Day

October 22, 2014

Across Texas, homeowners and buyers work with a myriad of professionals to ensure their homes are safe and well-built. While the need for sturdy foundations and proper electrical wiring seems obvious, other safety features are less widely known.

Corrugated Stainless Steel Tubing (CSST) is a type of flexible piping used to distribute natural gas or propane throughout homes. While CSST has many benefits, improperly bonded tubing can cause serious damage when lightning strikes, including gas leaks or fires.

As you gather to raise awareness of this important issue and encourage homeowners to have a licensed electrician inspect CSST, I commend you for promoting Texans' safety. First Lady Anita Perry joins me in wishing you the best.

In testimony whereof, I have signed my name and caused the Seal of the State of Texas to be affixed at the City of Austin, this the 20th day of October, 2014.
